METRO Sexual Health

Even though most types of contraception are used by women, it is everyone's responsibility to know what is available and to make sure you are sorted before having sex.

It is a good idea to visit a sexual health clinic or your GP to talk about how contraception can work for you. Finding the right contraception can be like trying to find the perfect pair of jeans – you may need to try a few on for size before you find the right one.

Most contraceptives are free on the NHS for young people, and available from different places such as your doctor or a local Sexual Health clinic.

Visit the Get it website to find out more about the types of contraception, how to use them and to order FREE condoms.

Who are METRO?

METRO is a leading equality and diversity charity, providing health, community and youth services across London and the South East, with national and international projects. METRO works with anyone experiencing issues around sexuality, gender, equality, diversity and identity across our five domains: Sexual & Reproductive Health, Community, Mental Health & Wellbeing, Youth and HIV.
